CUSTOMER SERVICE AWARD

WINNERS

Garth Magee
Hooper's/Sneaky Pete's

Garth Magee has worked in the bar and restaurant business for about seven years. For the past four years he has been employed at Hooper's Crab House and Sneaky Pete's. Magee has been a bartender and a cook since he started at the restaurant and was recently named bar manager. By far, Magee said he enjoys bartending the most. One of the reasons is because he gets to interact with customers.

The Ocean Pines resident who is moving to West Ocean City next week, said he loves meeting new people and likes talking to customers and learning about them and where they're from.

Magee said good customer service is important because it keeps patrons coming back.

"It's all about your attitude. If you're in a good mood it will rub off on the customer and they'll be in a good mood," he said. "If they have a good time, they'll want to come back to your business again."

SECOND-TIME WINNER

Raymond Simmons
Manuel Lopez
Fager's Island

Raymond Simmons has 27 years experience in the restaurant business. The last 16 years the Berlin resident has worked at Fager's Island. He has been the light fair kitchen manager since 2000. Simmons and

Lopez were nominated as a team for their good customer service dishing out food to patrons during Fager's Monday night deck parties. Simmons has prepared and served food at the deck parties for 14 years. He has been teamed up with Lopez on Monday nights for the past three years.

"We had at least 100 people standing in line waiting for food about two weeks ago and we kept things running smoothly," Simmons said. "I'm a people person. I've been in the restaurant business all my life and my philosophy is Customers always come first."
